On 10 October, 1944 -eight months before the USA- Nazi Germany tested the first Atom Bomb. The pressure wave had a diameter of 9 km and the resulting EMP pulse knocked out all the phones in Berlin for more than two days. Testimony of this event by pilot Hans Zinsser was recorded in August 1945. It was declassified only in 1992. In 1946-47 the mysterious mission to Antarctica led by Admiral Richard E. Byrd: Operation Highjump, included more than 4,700 US soldiers with mechanised and air support vehicles. It ended catastrophically after only a few weeks and was cut short of several months. En route back to the USA in March 1947, Admiral Byrd, told a journalist from El Mercurio that America should prepare itself to be attacked by aircraft of Polar origin that could fly at unheard of speeds. Three months later, in June 1947, eyewitness Kenneth Arnold is credited as the man who coined the words "flying saucers," when describing the first UFO 'flap' in Washington DC; a clear message to the White House.

The Roswell crash in July 1947 was originally first reported not as being "extraterrestrial" in origin, but rather as having technology from Germany. After debriefing in March 1947, Admiral Byrd never discussed Antarctica again. His diaries are currently still classified. In 1958 project Argus in utmost secrecy, detonates at least three atomic bombs in Antarctica. No real explanation as to why was ever divulged. From the 1950s onwards, astronomers have noted many anomalies on the Moon.

Including what appears to be large machinery involved in major earthworks. All of the above is not fiction.
 Overlords of Mars: Inception, mixes real history, cutting edge science and brilliant speculative fiction to create the first book where truth and fiction may be a lot closer than any of us would like. "He writes like a mix of Philip K. Dick and the Strugatsky brothers. Giuseppe Filotto is the 21st Century version of H.G. Wells with psychotronic enhancement." -Henry Marten
