Mystical and erotic story about the life before Earth. The first world was ideal, the first humans were immortal, everything was given to them to have a happy and end future and the life seemed to be going perfect. But there was a curious angel who changed the course of life. Firstly angels hadn't feelings, they were cold and emotion wondering about the new world and examining surroundings. But one of them learned to feel and to see the beauty of God's creation. For that life the angel is surely ready to leave even Heaven.
