In the battle between wine and water, two controlling hearts clash, and with a witch involved, the results can be poisonous. Marguerite Devereaux crafts wines that are exceptional, nothing short of perfection. But the girl tribe counsels caution, saying that little in life is truly flaw. She knows best though. Doing things her way guarantees success. When facts don't agree, lashing out is the only way to protect her ego. Is it also enough to guard her heart against her growing attraction to a man she vows to fight? Deke Kermarrec strives to honor the seven generations who have worked his land, even if he is the last in the family who cares. Nurturing high quality animals and protecting the ranch legacy are his life, one that's threatened by a relative newcomer with little respect for science as well as sustainability. Convincing her that he's right requires more than waving facts in her face – or taking her to bed. Trouble flows downhill, and Marguerite and Deke are thrown together in a treacherous crisis threatening more than their jobs. With so much at risk, can they blend their passion for each other into a solution to their problems? Perhaps the witch has the answer to all of their questions.
