This is a story of a monk who was not a monk long back. He was a charming boy who, despite of a deprived childhood, grows to riches and achieves professional excellence by his grit and hard work. But before he realizes the designs of destiny, he finds himself struggling to find love, peace, and happiness; and ends up in losing relations after relations amid the compelling pressures of profession, passion, and maladjustment of life. What made him to metamorphose into a life of a monk? And, was he happy being one? The story finely unravels the maze and finds answers. The story unfolds in an interesting and witty manner, at times it is humorous, sentimental, and emotional.
