MEN! Single mom J. T. Mayne was at wits' end. Her preteen son was moping around with a perpetual pout and more freckles than friends--until Shad McClellan showed up on their doorstep. The man was definitely too handsome for his own good, but he was her friend's brother...

and he did have three tickets to a big-league game! Her son's first smile in months meant J.T. had to let Shad into their lives. But as if a pint-size male hadn't flabbergasted her enough, now J.T. had a taller, brawnier, even -manageable man to contend with--one who wanted to tuck her in at night and wish her sweet dreams about him. Suddenly, J.T. had double the trouble.

Could that mean double the love?
