

A Cry in the Wilderness: The Raw Confessions of Texas Seven's Joseph Garcia

Pages:	172
Genre:	Nonfiction
Language	English
Author:	Joseph Garcia
ISBN10:	1432701681
Goodreads Rating:	3.75
Published:	December 1st 2006 by Outskirts Press
ISBN13:	9781432701680

A Cry in the Wilderness: The Raw Confessions of Texas Seven's Joseph Garcia.pdf

A Cry in the Wilderness: The Raw Confessions of Texas Seven's Joseph Garcia.epub

WHO COULD FORGET THE MOST INFAMOUS MANHUNT IN HISTORY? The Texas Seven shot and killed Police Officer Aubrey Hawkins on December 26, 2000, during their prison break from Connally Maximum Security, near San Antonio, Texas. Among them were charismatic leader George Rivas, Larry Harper, Keith Newbury, Patrick Murphy, Joseph Garcia, Michael Rodriguez and young Randy Halprin, tagged by the media as The Texas Seven. A van waited for them near the prison and their cross-country flight began. The search for The Texas Seven spanned over six weeks and was said to be the largest manhunt in U.S. history involving the FBI, ATF and U.S. Marshall and captured round-the-clock media attention. These are the raw confessions of Texas Sevens Joseph Garcia, of sins he has committed and sins committed against him from the time he was born. The finished product is a street-smart, hear-breaking rhapsody that could only have been written by the one who suffered all these things: Joseph Christopher Garcia.