Eva Smith was the socially awkward girl who believed the outsiders were god and had no place in their community, thanks to her Nan's upbringing. But when Andrew McMillan walked into the small town of Willow Creek he never expected to find a butterfly amongst the moths. When he first laid eyes on Eva Smith, his intentions were all but honorable, but as he got to know her, he realized that she was more than just a woman, she was the woman he'd been waiting for all his life. With the great divide between their lives and cultures, there was no knowing how or if their new found friendship would bloom into something bigger...
