It's never been easier (or cheaper) to sell on eBay. The free eBay seller app has made it a snap even for newbies to list items and sell them in record time. What's more surprising is what is actually selling on eBay today, and how easy it is for new sellers to start today with the unwanted items in their own home. (Even if you think you know what the 'unwanted' items in your home are, you'll be pleasantly surprised at what you DON'T know yet.) Even if you're strapped for cash, this book will help you jump-start your product sourcing and selling career without leaving your home. There's a very good chance you have thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise stashed away in various rooms throughout your house.
