Lieutenant Alex Daniels has a mission. If she doesn't teach the android spy she created to be the ultimate lover, a terrorist plot could undo the Union of Planets. But when Alex decides to go all the way with David, she finds him more human than machine. Can her feelings be real when she's the one who created him? And can she let him seduce another woman, even if her job, and her people, depend on it? This 5500 word story is the second part in the erotic romance series, "The Droid Who Loved Me."
