A sculptor named Pyg carves a statue of a goddess so beautiful, so perfect, that he falls head over heels in love with her.

He buys her gifts, tells her stories, and wishes with all his heart she were a real, live woman. The trouble with wishes is . . . sometimes they come true! Diane Stanley's lively prose and vivid illustrations bring this funny and warm tale of misguided love to life as Pyg learns what a true companion is really made of.
