Hannah Wright, daughter the of a New England sea captain, has lost her fiance to the California Gold Rush. Determined to find him, but short of funds, she enlists as a navigator on a clipper ship bound for San Francisco. Along the way, tempers rise and sparks fly between her and the rugged skipper. Upon arrival, she finds her fiance mad with greed.

Unable to change her betrothed.

Hannah allows her feelings for the skipper to grow to fruition. When she discovers the skipper is engaged to another, Hannah prepares to fight for the man who strove to win her heart.
