This anthology contains the ten winning entries from Brisbane City Council's second One Book Many Brisbanes story writing competition.

These stories show many different perspectives of our city--its past, the present and into the future--written by both emerging and established authors. What they all have in common though, is an appreciation for the diversity and atmosphere that makes Brisbane what it is. This second anthology publishes the winning entries from the 2006 One Book Many Brisbanes competition.
