The foreword is by New York Times Best Selling Author Miss Kay Robertson, Matriarch of A&E'S DUCK DYNASTY & DUCK COMMANDER. Miss Kay Robertson is featured and shares her testimony for the first time. To write is to explore, and one thing we can all agree on is the exploration of faith is a facet of life that should be explored and understood. Rhonda Branch Yearby and the co authors will show you how writing can help you learn the scope and depth of your faith and how that knowledge can change your world.

May these true stories give you the strength and inspiration to make the changes you need to see in your life, with faith, love and maybe a bit of humor.

Above all, "Women of Faith: Their Untold Stories Revealed", is a source of encouragement to other women facing their own uphill battles. True stories, collected from the voices and hearts of women around the world; everyday women who have found triumph over unseen circumstances through their faith in God.
